

makes law enforcement jobs more difficult. Thank you. Robert Jatczak, President of the Police Chiefs of Nebraska...Police Chiefs Association of Nebraska. Now I will tell you that Nebraska used to use Social Security numbers on the driver's license. And it was Senator Chambers, as I recall, who brought forth a bill that eliminated the Social Security number from our licenses. And at that time I think the police were caught flatfooted. Obviously, in other states, they still think that that Social Security number is another identifier and important to put on the driver's license. While we in Nebraska, and I can't recall how many years ago it was, have deleted that from our driver's license, I still think that if you take away that ability of the police officer to have some kind of specific identifier...

SPEAKER WITHEM: One minute.

SENATOR PIRSCH: ...that it is a mistake. And what Senator Brown and my amendment does is to try to pick out of LB 905 those areas that law enforcement uses in drugs, areas that they use in traffic tickets, that they...actually, in the Section 5 we've taken out where the Supreme Court may prescribe the form of a citation. This takes the power away from our Supreme Court to even put in, or as the words that we are taking out say, the Supreme Court, when they preside...

SPEAKER WITHEM: Time, Senator Pirsch.

SENATOR PIRSCH: I'll put my light on.

SPEAKER WITHEM: Senator Brown.

SENATOR BROWN: Thank you, Mr. President, members of the body. I have yet another example of when a Social Security number can be used very effectively. A young woman that I know was involved in a traffic accident this fall. And when they ran her name and her birth date, it was exactly the same name and same birth date as a young woman in Kansas. And they assumed that it was the same person. And then they used some other information that they elicited in the conversation, and very possibly including her Social Security number, to further identify that this was not the person who lived in Kansas. I just believe that we have to have all the tools that we can for law enforcement to do their job. I do not believe that this is
